Vermont Agency of Transportation Planning Coordinator Katharine Otto is seeking input about Route 9 as part of the State’s development of a plan for the corridor. Route 9 is the major East-West route through southern Vermont, connecting the region’s two largest communities, Bennington and Brattleboro and serves numerous other communities in Southern Vermont. It is also an important East-West route from New York into northern New England. Route 9 provides important access to services, education, healthcare, recreation, entertainment for residents of Bennington and Windham Counties and is critical to the economic vitality of Southern Vermont. Earlier in the year VTrans began the process of developing a long-term vision for the Route 9 corridor, designed to improve service and safety across all modes of transportation. The State is seeking input from stakeholders regarding the major issues and concerns that the public would like to see addressed in the Plan.
